

amanjiwo

Resting in the rural heartland of Central Java, between the present day royal capital of Yogyakarta and the once royal capital of Solo is Amanjiwo (peaceful soul). The resort celebrates the artistic traditions and spiriyual legacy of Central Javanese culture amidst an overwhelming aura of past majesty. Overlooking Borobudur, the world's largest Buddhist monument, Amanjiwo is surrounded by a plethora of extraordinary cultural, physical and spiritual beauty. With the Menoreh Hills rising behind it and no less than four volcanoes gracing the horizon, the resort is located within a natural amphitheatre.
